Bugle Monthly Essay Contest

Some very good essays were submitted by the Grade 9 students and it was difficult for the editors to make a final decision. It is gratifying to note the increasingly high quality of the essays being submitted. As there were only two entries from Grade 8, and these were considered to be of not the highest quality, it was decided to make two awards this month in the Grade 9 division. Winners this month are Kiksie Luostarinen and Rhonda Steil. Honorable mention must be made of the excellent entries submitted by Leslie Carlson and Tom Gorham. —Capt. H. W. J. Hammond presented the awards to the winners.

ARE TEENAGERS ALIENATED FROM THE ADULT WORLD

By Kiksie Luostarinen—Grade 9

This question has been brought up many times for debate by sympathetic adults. In many cases it is just a matter of opinion that we are looked upon with alienation by much of the adult world. The world seems to have no time in these days to consider teenagers and their numerous problems. People regard the younger generation as a bunch of willful in-betweeners. They do not realize the need for attention and consideration that teenagers crave, thus they tend to minimize youth and their opinions.

The teens are the most colorful years of life because no other period surpasses this age for sheer joy of living. It is at this age when teenagers stand at the threshold of their adult life, looking into the future. In other words, their whole future is handed to them in one package during their teens. They have to make their major choices of life before they have a chance to try out these choices to see how they like them. They must plot the course of their life when they are young and then follow this course for the remainder of their life.

All these decisions which must be made, and the problems arising from them make teenagers feel grownup and want to be accepted by adults. Too often, when confronted with a responsibility, adults find teenagers unwise in their decisions and conclude that they are not to be trusted. They do not stop to consider the difference in age and the years of experience that have taught them to avoid pitfalls.

Teenagers are often measured up to adults who look upon their youth and remember only the good aspects of their life then. They did not experience the captivating entertainment of rock 'n' roll music by Elvis Presley or the "Beatle Mania," but rather their own popular eras, and so wonder what this world is coming to. They simply can't accept the changes evoked by the on-coming generation. Looking at their view of life as compared with the teenager, they see that their relations with the world in every valid aspect are diminishing while the youth are progressing and evoking their aims in life, which induces them to hold cynic feelings towards them.

The greatest problem, apart from becoming acquainted with himself of a teenager is to learn to understand his parents and other adults. The new relationships brought about between him and his parents require him to make new adjustments. These new relationships also require his parents to make new adjustments with him. Having reached his teens, he has begun to welcome the opportunity of taking his life into his own hands. He feels that his judgment is as good as that of his parents. His powers of reasoning have developed until he feels he should be permitted to figure things out for himself. Life is attractive and he craves a chance to follow his own inclinations. All this can be summarized in the simple statement that he wants to come and go as he pleases and be allowed to make his own plans.

By Rhonda Steil—Grade 9

The common belief today is that teenagers are alienated from the adult world. There are many reasons for this belief. Teenagers of today have different ideas from their elders. Because of this many adults misunderstand them and think that they are mixed-up Teenagers, however, must also learn to understand adults. They are used to the way things were when they were younger, and think their children should be the same. It is often impossible for them to accept new fashions and attitudes.

Some adults of today haven't the patience to learn about and put up with teenagers. They think teenagers are just silly people who are cumbersome and do everything in a haphazard manner. Others think they are unsophisticated and naive. This is not true of most teenagers, Although they are very jubilant, most teenagers are courteous and ambitious.

As for the teenager who is consistently showing off, it may not always be his fault. Perhaps he does not get enough attention at home, so he wants to impress others. Maybe his parents show no interest in him and as a result he lacks initiative as he has no goal to strive for. In this case, sometimes a teacher has to substitute as a parent and provide a challenge.

Adults also think teenagers are lazy, and are always loafing around, and are generally irresponsible. When they were young there weren't all the modern gadgets of today, and many of them lived and worked on farms, which was twice as hard. Nowadays, most teenagers live in the city where there is always something to do, and they never seem to be home. Many teenagers form gangs or else hang around certain places like restaurants or small stores, bothering the owners and making silly remarks about other customers. They walk around with long hair and clothes of every color and fashion. Many teenagers wear the "mod" fashions, and this makes adults even more resentful of them. They feel that boys are beginning to look more like girls every day, and that the girls' mini-skirts are absolutely terrible, not like anything they wore when they were younger.

Another reason that teenagers may be alienated from the adult world is that they don't have at all the same interests. Teenagers seem always to be doing something, but adults do not participate in the same things as their children. Perhaps if there were more sports in which both children and the parents could take part together, this would not be a problem.

Entertainments or outings arranged for family participation would create better family ties, and a better understanding and relationship between parents and children, and as a result, between teenagers and adults. This might end alienation of the teenagers from the adult world and would be a good foundation for improved social conditions.

KEEP ALBERTA GREEN SIGN

Bertie Beaver, who has been working for the Alberta Forest Service of the Alberta Department of Lands and Forests since 1958, will appear on major highway signs in the forested areas of Alberta in 1967. Bertie, designed by the late Walt Disney as a contribution to the Alberta Government, has been featured on many fire prevention posters. Now, in large scale, he will caution motorists to "Keep Alberta Green" on reflectorized 4 by 7-foot signs, prepared by the Department of Highways.

50th ANNIVERSARY OF FRANCHISE EXTENDED TO WOMEN

The 50th Anniversary of the year in which Canada's women were first allowed to vote in the Federal Elections will be commemorated by a Canada Post Office 5c stamp to be released on the 24th May, 1967. Postmaster General. Jean-Pierre Cote announced today.

Although complete enfranchisement for Canadian women in national elections was not granted until 1918, the Wartime election Act of 1917 permitted votes to those who had relatives in the country's armed services.

Appropriately, the new stamp is based on a design conceived by Helen Fitzgerald of Toronto; it is medium in size, vertical in format and produced in colours of mauve, black and grey. The design symbolizes womanhood upheld by the power of the ballot incorporated in the pedestal-like support. Miss Fitzgerald has achieved considerable success in the field of Canadian Stamp design; her work has appeared on six previous stamps during recent years.

Twenty-four and one-half million Women's Franchise stamps have been produced by the lithographic printing process on the premises of the Canadian Bank Note Company Limited, Ottawa.

Square Dancing at Namao

Another month has passed and a busy one it was for the "Happy Hercs" square dance club. In addition to our regular dance, held at the Guthrie school gym every Tuesday from 8:00-10:30 p.m.

Our club turned out in full force for the Ball & Chain dance at Fort Saskatchewan on the 4th of March for a wild night.

March 17th was the night when the Square Dance Association held a dance for all beginners. All available club members were in attendance. This was a first for most of us to square dance with over three hundred dancers on the floor at once. An exciting and very enjoyable night.

Thanks to Marj, Emma, Doris and Gay we now proudly display our club banner.

We have a membership of 64 at present, mostly beginners last October, but are classed as Intermediate level.

There will be a Graduation dance on April 25th, being the last special dance of the season, it is hoped that all members will attend (who would miss their Graduation?). And of course guests are always welcome. Arrangements are being made for "Burt Harvie" to come from Vancouver for the night.

The Happy Hercs will hold their final dance of the season on Tuesday, June 6th, and will commence again approximately Sept. 15th at which time we will have an Intermediate and Beginner group, all operating under the present committee. Watch for details in the Aug and Sept issue of this paper. Remember the club is open to Griesbach, Namao and surrounding area. So please feel free to join us, or contact the committee.

President — Bob and Marj Copp, 799-5098.

Vice-Pres. and Publicity — Mel and Doris Pound, 799-5432.

Sec.-Treas. — Larry and Lorraine Caldwell, 799-3490.

ALEXANDER LOCAL ASSOCIATION

The regular monthly meeting of the Alexander Local Association (Brownie, Guide and Ranger Mothers), will be held on April 18.

The Uniform Committee is headed by Mrs. Lareverend, telephone 476-7558. If anyone has Guide or Brownie uniforms to sell, it would be most appreciated if Mrs. Lareverend were contacted. There have been several requests for uniforms, but a shortage of supply. It has all so been found that by listening to "Swap" shows, such as those on CFRN and CJCA radio, it is often possible to hear of a uniform for sale. Occasionally one may be found in the Swap Shop.

The TALENT SHOW is to be held on May 5th and not May 12th as previously reported in the March Bugle. The entry forms have been distributed, and must be returned by April 15th. The auditions for entrants is to be held on April 21. Please note that all children must be accompanied by a parent, whether as entrants or as audience. The proceeds of the Show will be used toward the purchase of Guiders' uniforms, as well as for the new MEETING HUT being planned for Centennial Year. Admission will be as follows:

Adults 50c — Children 25c.

The winners of the Poster Contest for the LA Bake Sale were Heather Trupp and Beverly Smith. They will be presented with World Friendship Pins by the LA.

CONTROL OF DOGS

1. It has come to my attention that existing orders concerning the control of dogs in the PMQ area are being disregarded by some occupants.

2. This has resulted in the uncontrolled animals fouling other occupants lots and knocking over garbage cans. There have been reports of at least three children being bitten by these animals. The situation has finally culminated in one child being knocked over and dragged along the street by the dog, causing a severe welt on the child's throat.

3. I wish to point out that Standing Orders require that dogs are not permitted to run loose at anytime within the confines of the Base. They must be kept on a leash and under the control of a responsible person. The only exception to this will be in cases where dog owner's wish to exercise their dogs, they may do so in the remote areas of the Base provided the person exercising the dog is able to maintain control of it.

4. When dogs are tied outside a PMQ the leash or rope must be secure and of a length that will prevent the animal from running on other occupants property. In the event that a dog is tied outside a PMQ, a responsible person must be present in the PMQ to make periodic checks to insure that the dog has not broke from the restraint. It is insufficient to tie a dog outside the PMQ and leave it unattended for a number of hours while all responsible occupants are absent and hope the dog will be there when they return.

5. These orders are essential to ensure that the right of all occupants to quiet enjoyment of their residence and the safety of our children are protected. I view the disregard of the orders as a flagrant violation of service discipline. In the event of future occurrences the owners permission to have a dog in their PMQ will be rescinded. Repeated occurrences will necessitate a review of the occupant's fitness to remain in Quarters.

NEW RECONNAISSANCE VEHICLES FOR CANADIAN ARMED FORCES

Negotiations are underway for the purchase of some 175 new command and reconnaissance vehicles to further increase the mobility and effectiveness of the Canadian Army.

To replace the Ferret scout car the new vehicle will be called the LYNX and will be used by reconnaissance units and elements of the fighting units. It will carry the .50 and a .30 calibre machine gun.

The vehicles will be manufactured by the FMC Corporation of San Jose, California manufacturer of the M113A armoured personnel carrier, now in the Canadian Forces inventory.

The total cost of the reconnaissance vehicles, including equipment and spare parts will be in excess of $10,000,000.00

The FMC reconnaissance vehicle is a highly agile, lightweight full tracked armoured vehicle capable of amphibious and rough cross-country operations as well as normal highway operation.

Operated by a crew of three, it is 15 feet long and has a combat weight of 18,500 pounds. Top land speed is 44 m.p.h. with a cruising range of 325 miles. It can easily be prepared for airborne operations.

An important feature is that the principal suspension and power-train components are interchangeable with those of the M113A armoured personnel carriers.

The first LYNX is scheduled for delivery late in 1967.

The Ferret Scout car, which was introduced into the Canadian Army in 1954, will gradually be phased out of service.

GOLDEN CENTENNAIRES

Golden jet aircraft trailing plumes of coloured smoke will flash across the site of Expo '67 heralding the opening of the World Exhibition and introducing the Armed Forces aerobatic display team, the Golden Centennaires, in their premiere performance for Centennial year.

The thousands of guests gathered for the opening ceremonies, besides thrilling to the roar of the Centennaires' Tutor jet trainers, will see a 100-man guard of honour from the third battalion Royal 22nd Regiment and a 45-man band of the Black Watch (Royal Highland Regiment) of Canada which will be inspected by the Governor General. A 21-gun Royal salute will be fired by a troop from the 4th Regiment, Royal Canadian Horse Artillery.

Later in the day the Golden Centennaires will present their full aerobatic show: 40 minutes of high speed precision flying at this first of the 100 locations where they will perform during the following 6 months.

The Tutor jets flown by the Centennaires are the first all Canadian built and designed aircraft to be used by a Canadian aerobatic team.

R.C.A.F. TO MOVE TO LAHR

Negotiations have been completed with the French Government of the Federal Republic of Germany for the move of units of 1 Air Division from Metz and Marville in France to an airbase in Lahr in South Germany. The Lahr airbase is now occupied by the French air force.

An advance party from Air Division is now in Lahr and the move of the units will be completed by March 31. Some families of the servicemen will be remaining in France until the end of the school year.

Until such time as for the French air units now are ready in France later this year, the base at Lahr will be shared by the R.C.A.F. and the French air force.

It was announced in July 1966 that elements of the First Air Division would be moving to the two existing R.C.A.F. bases in Germany, Zweibrücken and Baden Solingen, and that alternative facilities will be sought in Germany for the air transport unit now located at Marville. The acquisition of Lahr however, provides sufficient space for the headquarters of the air division now at Metz, and for the two reconnaissance squadrons and the air transport unit which are now at Marville.

Lahr is close to the Rhine on the border of France and Germany about 75 miles south of Heidelberg.

SIGS ACCOMPANY VOYAGEURS

Centennial Voyageurs Canoe Pageant and civilization will be maintained by units of the armed forces along the 3,500-mile route from Rocky Mountain House, Alberta, to the site of Expo '67 this summer.

Members of No. 1 Canadian Signals Regiment of Mobile Command will provide a radio unit to travel the Voyageurs' river routes and a naval tug, manned by reservists from H.M.C.S. Griffin, the naval reserve division at Port Arthur, Ont., will accompany them across the Great Lakes.

The canoes, one representing each province and territory manned by Voyageurs in period costumes leave Rocky Mountain House, May 24, and paddle east to Montreal via Edmonton, Lloydminster, North Battleford, Prince Albert, The Pas, Portage La Prairie, Winnipeg, Selkirk, Kenora, Fort Francis, across Lake Superior to Sault Ste. Marie and then to the French River, North Bay, Mattawa, Deep River, Pembroke, Arnprior and Ottawa. The canoes arrive at Expo on Sept. 4.

Chief of the pageant is Lieut. Col. W.H.V. Matthews (ret'd.) of Gabriola Island, B. C. The officer commanding the mobile radio troop will be Lieut. R. B. Logan Edmonton, Alta., a member of the Royal Canadian Signals.

SAFETY TROPHY COMPETITION

Canadian Armed Force commands and formations will compete annually for two trophies in motor transport safety.

The awards are emblematic of the excellence of safe driving performed by the vehicle operators of the winning command or formation in two categories.

The "Ministers Motor Transport Safety Trophy" is a new award for the lowest accident rate achieved in the operation of special purpose vehicles during the past year. Special purpose vehicles include construction engineering equipment, fire and crash vehicles, ambulances, material handling and aircraft ground handling and servicing vehicles.

The second award is the "Canadian Highway Safety Council Plaque" which will continue to be presented annually to the command or formation achieving the lowest accident rate in the operation of passenger vehicles. Last year's winner was Defence Research Board with the low rate of 1.13 accidents per 100,000 miles.

FAREWELL TO COMMITTEEMAN

Over the past year posting have taken their toll in Scout and Cub circles and it appears they have not ceased yet. We are about to lose our Secretary.

The paper calls him Max but I'll call him Lex because I know him better than the proofreaders do.

Yep, they are taking our Secretary far over the Atlantic to do a burst of time in Germany.

For the benefit of those who do not know him—Lex has no boys in his family yet was willing and did a splendid job solving the Secretary's problems in this committee.

His wife, Meta, has been a Guide Captain and also a Brown Owl who very ably kept her No. 1 Brownie Pack on the tracks all year. Lex and Meta have two daughters, Jean and Carol both active in Guiding. As this will show many of this family's own hours have been spent for the benefit of this community with little regard for personal desires they may have. I know their absence will be definitely noticed.

On behalf of the Chairman of this Committee, all uniform leaders, the rest of the committee and all Scouts and Cubs in Grisbach, I would like to take this opportunity to say thanks and bid you folks farewell. We hope you enjoy your trip.

PPCLI DEPOT NEWS

Deletions, additions, and in one case, promotion into commissioned rank is the March news of this unit.

QMSI (WO2) Falconer JRD reported for duty before the CO, Maj. WHJ Stutt as Lieut. JRD Falconer, on the 6th of Mar. '67

Our newest officer was promptly informed that he would become Pl. Cmdr. of Leonfort Pl. which will commence training on the 20th of March '67. Its been a long climb from the days when he was known as Boy Falconer, played the drums and blew the Bugle that used to wake us all each morning.

Congratulations, "Sir".

Cpl. Coyes DP is now on his journey to Egypt. With his moustache and dark glasses, we hope he doesn't get mistaken for King Farouk.

We have received word that Cpl. Holand DW will replace Cpl. Coyes after he completes his R and R leave from Egypt.

Cpl. Hartman KJF, the ex-patricia, now cook, will also return to us on March 17, '67. This Cpl. always returns to the place from which he got his start in the army.

Lance Sgts Ellis and Lalond will be returning to 1 PPCLI and in their place we welcome Cpl Tophams NBF and Cpl Pekkett RJ. To the two Sergeants we say "Thanks for your efforts with the recruits, good luck on all your future efforts". To the two new Cpls, 'Welcome, we're glad to have you, chin up, pull the head back and dig in on the new job'.

Cpl. Brochu AJ, 1 PPCLI, was also a new addition to our instructors and he was immediately greeted with the news that he was to pack his bag and rifle and report to the Wainwright detachment. He's there now.

Mons Platoon will graduate on the 22nd of March '67, but es our deadline is the 17th of March, Lady Patricia's and the Regiment's Birthday, we'll have to stop here and report on those events in the next issue.

NUTS & BOLTS

By Sgt. E. W. Lewis

Congratulations are in order for Sgt "Tex" Sharkey, Sgt "Bob" Ewing Cfn "Ron" Wahl and last but by no means least Mr. "Harry" Logan who formed one of the five rinks which 224 Workshop entered in the 6th Annual Alberta RCEME Curling Bonspiel held at Camp Wainwright during the weekend 17-19 Mar. Tex and his team won the "B" Event Trophy. This impressive trophy is now on display in the Trophy Cabinet situated in the Workshop entrance. Congratulations Boys on your sportsmanship and good curling.

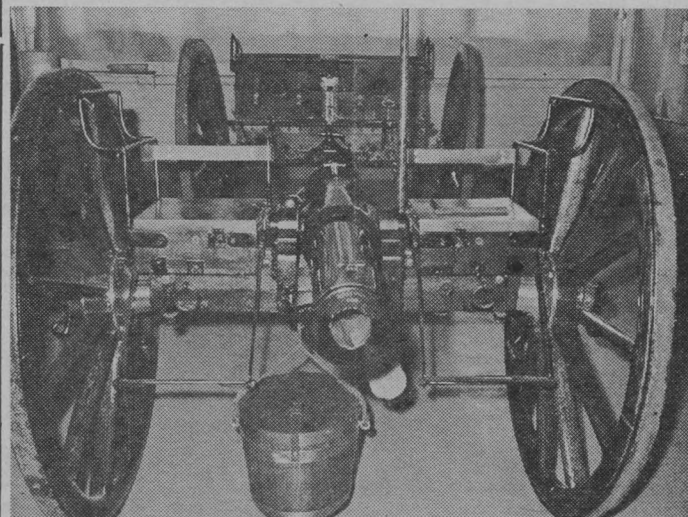

A vote of thanks is also passed to the Bonspiel committet who supplied the 32 rinks that attended with excellent accommodations, food, drink, transportation and a very good curling schedule. After speaking with many of the curlers who attended I am sure that all appreciated your efforts and hard work.

Once again all members of the workshop, which is now known as Base Maintenance Company, are preparing to say farewell to one of its very senior members. in the person off Mr. "Bob" Greig. Bob who for the past thirteen years has been the Shipper and Receiver of the unit has decided to resign his position effective 31 Mar. This reporter has been told that Bob is considering a position with an Edmonton firm that will give him a wider field of opportunity for advancement. We all wish you the best of luck, Bob.

Ssgt A. S. McLeod, one of the junior members of the company, is also saying farewell to the fold. Ssgt who is known as "Archie" to his close friends has decided to take a position with AGT. Our best wishes go with you to your new job.

Cfn "Tom" Hogg who successfully completed a Junior NCO course at Camp Borden has left for that little northern hamlet called INUVIK. Tom is going to spend the next six months at this small Canadian metropolis where he will maintain and repair all the Navy's vehicular equipment. We hope that you find the climate to your liking, Tom.

Cpl "Joe" Wuychuk is off again. Joe returned from North West Europe around the end of February and by March was on his way to Camp Shilo for a few weeks with the electronic inspection team. I'm told that travel is good for itchy feet, Joe.

Friends of Cpl "Rusty" Johnston will be glad to hear that he has returned home after successful completion of an Armoured Personnel Carrier Maintenance Course at the RCEME School, Kingston, Ont.

A few months ago I reported that the tradesmen of the workshop were refurbishing a 9 PR, Rifled Muzzle Loading Cannon and Limber, manufactured in 1874. This cannon as previously reported was used by General Strange's Army during the Louis Riel Rebellion May, 1885.

Pictured above is this cannon as it looked when manufacturer. All one would have to do to fire this artillery piece is load and ignite the fuse.

On behalf of the officers and personnel of Base Maintenance Company I would like to congratulate the technicians who helped to restore this cannon to its original state, an excellent job, well done, men.

ART'S I STAFF COLUMN

Since this is my first attempt at reporting the news for the detachment it will be short and to the point. An Aid Memoire

Know Your Commanders

With the many changes taking place within the command and organizational structure of the Canadian Forces, the D.N.D. Regional Information Office, Alberta Region, will publish a series of photographs and biographical sketches for the Bugle of CFHQ Commanders, Commanders of the functional commands, as well as local commanders. In addition there will be brief summaries of the various commands and their responsibilities. It is hoped that this aide memoire will be of value to all military personnel and their dependents in the Canadian Forces Base, Edmonton, and keep them informed of the developments within the Canadian Forces.

Canadian Forces Command Structure

Colonel Albert Mendelsohn, of Ottawa and Montreal, will be promoted to brigadier and appointed chief of land logistics group at Headquarters, Materiel Command in Ottawa on April 18.

He has been assistant deputy chief of staff for administration and personnel at Materiel Command since August, 1966.

Colonel Albert Mendelsohn was born in Montreal on March 21, 1917. He holds a bachelor of engineering (mechanical) degree from McGill University.

He was commissioned in the ordnance corps in October 1940. During the war he served in Canada, Great Britain and Northwest Europe. Following attendance at the Canadian Army Staff College in 1946 he was promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel and appointed general staff officer 1st grade, in the directorate of weapons and development at Army Headquarters. From January 1949 to November 1952 he was liaison officer with the United States War Department. In September 1953 he was appointed to the directing staff at Canadian Army Staff College and in November 1956 he was appointed Commander Royal Electrical and Mechanical Engineers, Headquarters 1 Canadian Infantry Division.

He attended NATO Defence College from February 1958 to August 1958 following which he was appointed assistant director electrical and mechanical engineers at Army Headquarters. He was appointed to command the Royal Canadian School of Mechanical Engineering in December 1960.

He was appointed Director of Electrical and Mechanical Engineering in August 1962. In September 1966 he was posted to Materiel Command Headquarters, planning group, and in August 1966, he assumed the appointment of Assistant Deputy Chief of Staff for administration and personnel, Headquarters Materiel Command.

He will be promoted to brigadier and will assume the appointment as Chief of Land Logistics Group, Materiel Command Headquarters on April 18, 1967.

BRIGADIER H. B. BRODIE

Brigadier H. B. Brodie, of Hamilton, Ont., will take up his new appointment as director general transportation at Canadian Forces Headquarters, Ottawa on March 28. He was promoted to brigadier earlier in March.

He has been commandant of the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps School at Canadian Forces Base Borden since August 1965.

CANADIAN SOLDIERS ON GUARD DUTY IN EGYPT

Canadian soldiers will take over security guard duties this month at the two camps in Egypt used by the Canadian contingent with the United Nations Emergency Force.

Camp Rafah, the Canadian base in the Gaza Strip, has been guarded by Brazilian infantrymen. El Arish, the location of 115 Air Transport Unit RCAF, has been guarded by Yugoslav security troops.

The 1st Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry in Edmonton will provide a platoon commander and 64 men for the one-year tour of security duty.

This is another step in the reorganization of the force begun a year ago. In February 1966, the 120-man Canadian reconnaissance squadron was withdrawn and a further decrease of 62 Canadian signallers, engineers, drivers and supply personnel is now taking place.

On completion of the current changes, the Canadian contingent strength will be about 800 compared to over 900 before the reconnaissance squadron was withdrawn.

HOUSING UNITS TO BE BUILT

One hundred housing units will be built for service families at Canadian Forces Base North Bay. It is expected they will be completed this fall at a total cost of approximately $1,462,000.

Turret Construction and Housing Co., Ltd., will build 70 semi-detached houses at Morlandville, and 24 four-bedroom and six five-bedroom fully detached houses in Dalesview which will be leased to the Department of National Defence. Both sub-divisions are in the Township of Widdifield.

Monthly rentals will range from $129.75 for the smaller units to $144 for the four-bedroom and $149 for the five bedroom houses.

Already in the area are 290 units owned by Turret Construction and Housing on lease to National Defence. In addition, there are 234 permanent married quarters on the military base.

BOREDOM BEING OVERCOME AT MARINA

By Lt. Cdr. H. C. Wallace

EL ARISH, EGYPT — A tiny Canadian community flourishes 150 yards from the Mediterranean on the north coast of the Sinai desert.

It's Marina Camp, home of 90 officers and men of the RCAF's 115 Air Transport Unit which for ten years has supported the UN Emergency Force along the Palestine, Egyptian and Israeli borders.

Marina is a former RCAF rest camp, seven miles from the unit's three Caribou aircraft at El Arish airport. Heat and sand beset both aircraft and men but boredom is the most persistent enemy.

A variety of off-hour activity and the chance to travel to a dozen cities in the storied Middle East make morale "very high" according to the commanding officer, Wing Commander James Fitzsimmons, of Lindsay, Ont.

"This may be somewhat surprising," W/C Fitzsimmons said, "when one considers that the servicemen do not see their families during their one-year tour of duty." His own family awaits him in Ottawa.

The unit is strong on sports, mainly baseball, volleyball, and tennis, however, the summer afternoons are too hot for sports. When a wind blows from the desert an open window is like an open furnace door.

Because of the climate, working hours are restricted to the morning, except for crews required for afternoon flights.

Because of the heat, sports are usually held in the evening and these also include archery, badminton, horse-shoes and a nine-hole pitch-and-putt golf course. Swimming facilities include a beach house with clean sand and a good surf nearby, a lifeguard, sauna room, weight-lifting apparatus and even a masseur.

Nightly movies are free, indoors or outdoors depending on the weather. A camp chapel has services each Sunday. A library with 1,500 books is still growing.

Radio Marina, a closed circuit venture which celebrated its first birthday in January, is one of the biggest morale boosters. With speakers in all messes and quarters, more than a dozen volunteer disc jockeys stand two-hour tricks, drawing from 2,500 records.

About 45 taped programs from the CBC are kept on hand and another 25 from private stations such as CHUM, Toronto; WKSX, Buffalo, N.Y., and Ottawa's CFRA provide variety. Radio Marina also carries news and sports when short wave reception permits.

Volunteer announcers receive a 14-karat gold mike lapel pin after 150 hours on the air. Station manager is F/L Gale Winterburn of Prince Albert, Sask. Production manager is LAC Ron Falls, of Leicester, England, and the technical manager is Cpl. Hugh McKay, of Ottawa. The station operates at least ten hours a day, longer on weekends.

The unit has its roots in the RCAF communications flight formed on Nov. 9, 1956, at Abu Suweir near the Suez Canal as part of the embryo United Nations Emergency Force.

It first used four Otter aircraft which flew from the Canadian aircraft carrier Magnificent at Port Said in January, 1957. Three Dakota aircraft were also allocated for the heavier freight runs in the build-up of the UN force.

As Israeli forces withdrew from the Sinai peninsula in 1957 the air base for the force was shifted to El Arish. The unit has two roles—air transport and air observation. Flying is good but the territory is bleak, barren desert and mountainous country. Radio navigation aids are minimal and pilots must quickly develop a map reading skill.

Pilots fly five or six days a week, averaging about 60 hours a month. During 1966 they carried 26,427 passengers and 2,636,539 pounds of freight and baggage.

W/C Fitzsimmons takes considerable pride in his unit and its accomplishments. The men who make up this unit have a sense of accomplishment in their peace-keeping role.

THE RED KNIGHT

Flight Lieutenant Jack Waters has his own Centennial project. As the RCAF's solo aerobatic jet pilot, the Red Knight, he will perform his 14-minute air show 100 times in six months. The coast-to-coast schedule is the busiest since the Red Knight originated at Portage la Prairie, Man., in 1959 as RCAF Training Command's contribution to the 50th anniversary of powered flight in Canada.

Flt. Lt. Waters, 29, is from Peterborough and London, Ont. Officer commanding the Canadian Forces Recruiting Center at Kitchener, Ont., until recently, he has returned to Canadian Forces Base Portage la Prairie to fly the Red Knight's brilliant red T-33 Silver Star jet trainer. He was graduated as a pilot at Portage la Prairie ten years ago (March 15, 1957) and served as a T-33 flying instructor at Gimli, Man. for the next three-and-a-half years.

The RCAF Red Knight was named after Germany's ace, the Baron Von Richtofen, whose daring air-fighting exploits in his famous red bi-plane earned him the title, "Red Knight of Germany" in the First World War.

The Red Knight show is performed close to the display area at speeds close to 600 miles an hour. He experiences a force of up to "7G" causing him to weigh over 1,100 pounds. An anti-"G" suit prevents "blacking out."

Flying Officer Rod Ellis, 23, of Bathurst, N.B., will be the commentator and replace Flt. Lt. Waters in case of illness. Corporals Bob Hawes, of Regina, and Greg Moore, of Penticton, B.C., are crew chief and crew man.

The Red Knight's first 1967 show will be at CFB Portage la Prairie on April 14 at a wings parade which may be attended by the Minister of National Defence, the Hon. Paul Hellyer. The largest crowds to see his airshows will probably be at the Canadian International Air Show, CNE, Toronto, September 1 and 2.

Flight Lieutenant Jack Waters was born July 10, 1937, at Kingston, Ontario. He attended St. Peter's School, Peterborough, Ont., and Catholic Central High School, London, Ont.

CANADIAN GUARDS EXERCISE IN TROPICS

A 100 man company group from the 1st battalion of the Canadian Guard, Canada's U.N. standby battalion has been proving its worth daily in this sub-tropic training area on Vieques Island, Puerto Rico.

Since arrival by RCAF aircraft from Trenton, Ont., last week, they have been training non-stop in guerilla warfare tactics in hot, sticky 90° temperatures. The operation, Exercise Peace Keeper, is being conducted simultaneously with a series of large scale naval manoeuvres by ships and aircraft of Maritime Command in operation Maple Spring under the command of the Canadian Fleet Commander, Comodore R. H. Leir of Penticton, B.C. The exercise is designed to provide the soldiers with practical sub-tropical training.

Large guerilla infiltrations required the company group under Captain G. Facey of Picton, Ont., to fight a withdrawal and evacuate from the beaches. The entire company group was evacuated from Vieques Island by ships of the RCN's 7th Escort Squadron from Halifax under Captain A. L. Collier, RCN, Salmon Arm, B.C. According to Lt. Col. J. G. Haynes of Toronto, Commanding Officer 1st Canadian Guards, "the withdrawal was a tremendous success. The men were met on the beach by the helicopter-destroyers Margaree and Ottawa and in less than 15 minutes took off the waiting troops, slipped their lines and headed for San Juan, Puerto Rico in extremely rough seas."

The Captain of the Margaree is Cdr. R. C. MacLean of St. Boniface, Manitoba and Halifax. While Cdr. J. P. Cote of Quebec City skips the Ottawa. In spite of the sea swell, the navy transferred by jackstay several troops including Company Sgt. Major D. A. J. Murray of Newcastle, N.B., to the third ship of Cdr. T. L. Hebert of Vernon, B.C.

Cdr. MacLean described the complete evacuation operation as "orderly, according to schedule, and was good value to all concerned, not only for training but also of contact between personnel of the two services under operational conditions." Regimental Sgt. Major L. M. Prest of Vancouver said, "if it is possible to single out one item which impressed us most I would say that it was the noiseless approach to the jetty made by the two destroyers."

The ships berthed at San Juan hours later. Much to their surprise, the soldiers were granted "liberty"—after which the navy returned them to their tropical 'paradise' for the conclusion and climax of the training period—a "search and destroy" operation involving the complete company group for a continuous period of 48 to 72 hours. The exercise concludes this weekend.

month's sea duty in HMCS Magnificent. He enlisted in the RCAF in December, 1955, and commissioned at Portage la Prairie in March, 1957, and then served as a T-33 flying instructor at Gimli, Man., for the next three years, six months.

A tour of duty with Canada's NATO Air Division followed. He served with 430 Fighter Squadron in France for two years and was instrument check pilot at No. 3 Wing, Zweibrücken, Germany, for the next two years.

In May, 1965, he assumed command of the Canadian Forces. He was selected as the RCAF Recruiting Center, Kitchener, Ont. Red Knight in February, 1967, and was posted to Canadian Forces Base Portage la Prairie, Man.

Flt. Waters is married to the former Miss Mary Teresa Ferren of Peterborough. They have three sons and two daughters.

ARMED FORCES TATOO

The lights dim, come up again and there sits a Mark 2B Spitfire, SOP 8332, in an operational tableau unmistakably "Battle of Britain". A siren sounds, "scramble is called, the engine roars to life and the aircraft begins to taxi. As the lights dim again a Merlin engine roars off into the darkness over the crowd. This is one of the Second World War scenes in the Canadian Armed Forces Tatoo that will be seen at seven outdoor stadium performances across Canada.

The Spitfire now sits at No. 6 Repair depot at Canadian Forces Base Trenton, Ont., where it is undergoing the extensive modification necessary for transporting it by truck or rail. The wings are being removed and new ones built which can be taken off in minutes. An electric motor is being installed to spin the propeller at 400 revolutions per minute so that the ancient Merlin engine will not have to be started (the engine sounds, taken from actual recordings, are broadcast over the TATOO sound system).

First appearance of the aircraft in the show will be at the stadium performance in Victoria, B. C. on 25 May.

No. 3677 RETURNS AFTER TEN YEARS IN EGYPT

EL ARISH, EGYPT—The long flight back to Canada for RCAF

Otter aircraft 3677 was almost as unusual as its trip to Egypt ten years earlier.

It arrived in Egypt secured to the flight deck of the aircraft carrier Magnificent on Jan. 19, 1957. It left on Jan. 15, 1967, in crates secured inside a huge Hercules transport.

During the decade, however, it helped write an impressive chapter in the history of both the RCAF and Canada's peacekeeping contributions.

In 1957 No. 3677 was one of four Otters which had been taken to Port Said along with other supplies and men by the Magnificent. They were to support the embryo UN emergency force in the Middle East.

In their ten years less four days in Egypt the high wing monoplanes averaged 195 hours of flying each month totalling three and a quarter million air miles.

Painted white with blue UN markings, the Otters were known over a dozen Middle Eastern cities in half a dozen countries throughout the eastern Mediterranean area.

The Otter was originally designed to operate in Canada's north. It carries nine passengers with a crew of two, or a payload of 2,000 pounds, up to 750 miles. Produced by de Havilland Aircraft of Canada, Toronto, it first came into RCAF service in 1953.

By 1960, the RCAF had 66 Otters used in supply, communications, search and rescue, and by auxiliary squadrons.

A flight to a few of the UNEF outposts in the Sinai was all that was needed to convince the medics the Otter could handle emergencies.

The initial four Otters plus three Dakotas operated in Egypt from Abu Suweir, a few miles west of Ismailiya on the Suez Canal system. The base later advanced to El Arish airport seven miles from the Mediterranean and 60 miles from the Gaza headquarters.

The last Otter flight in Egypt was by Otter 3677, which made a training flight to Aswan and Luxor Jan. 3-6 this year. Then the wings, tail assembly, undercarriage and prop were taken off and the whole lot loaded into a Hercules air transport and flown back to Air Transport Command headquarters in Trenton, Ontario.

115 ATU continues its operations with three Caribou combining scheduled passenger-freight runs with reconnaissance and observation of the Armistice Demarcation Line and the International Frontier whenever it can.

Centennial Project

Griesbach Rangers, Scouts, Cubs, Guides and Brownies will sponsor a "Blood Donor Blitz" on the base (Griesbach) as a Centennial Project.

Actual clinic to be held 18 May, but every MQ resident will be hearing from the children in the near future.

The curriculum will be basically the same as for the current course but with more emphasis on the land battle and its support by air.

The 44-week course will begin in early September.

What's New? - Women

Eleven trades in the Navy & Air Force have been opened for single girls between 18 and 29 years of age. One of the more interesting naval trades is that of Radar Plotter which, among other things, includes a 6 week course in Florida. There are 4 Wren and at least 11 Airwomen intakes scheduled for this year.

Otters Withdrawn

Two RCAF aircraft which have been operating with the United Nations forces on the Gaza Strip in Egypt, have been withdrawn.

RCAF's 115 Air Transport Unit provided by Canada since 1956, has consisted of three twin-engine Caribou and two single-engine Otters. The five aircraft have been used for observation along the Israel/Egyptian Frontier, logistics flights for the movement of men and materiel to UN-

EF outposts in Sinai, and communication flights between Jordan, Israel, Lebanon and Egypt.

Canadian troops now perform logistical tasks such as food supply, administration, vehicle repair and recovery and police duties for which patrol aircraft are not needed.

Three RCAF Caribou aircraft will continue to meet Canada's UN commitment by transporting freight and troops.

CHALK TALK

By Brian Davis

JUNIOR HIGH PLAY NIGHT

Inadvertantly, the report on the junior high play night was omitted from the March issue of the Bugle. Together with our regrets for the omission, we are publishing the following account by a Bugle reporter.

On the afternoon of January 25, 550 students; and in the evening of January 27 at least 300 people enjoyed the performance of the concert party. The play was staged by the junior high school, with supporting members of the cast drawn from Grades 2, 6, and 7. In effect this was a talent show and audiences on both play dates were enthusiastic in their appreciation of the kinds of talent displayed. The stage settings were most effective. It was obvious that much planning and a great deal of effort had gone into the presentation which was four months in preparation, as an extra-curricular activity. Two skits were presented; Russian Roulette, and Water! Brian Weber gave a very creditable performance. The whole play did credit to all the actors, and it is difficult to single out any particular item as a main feature. The vocal numbers, the dancers; and the piano solo, all deserve commendation. Miss Free's Grade 6 pupils very ably supplemented the chorus, and the "Clam & Chouders" guitars and drums vocal numbers were well received. Bethany Campbell Laurence Falconer, Kendra Irwin, Griesbach's Petula Clark, and Donna Morlock sang exceptionally well. The Gero family tap dancing trio, Daryl, Darla and Duane, gave two lively tap dances, and Bonnie Einarsson, was well suited in her tap dance. The song sung by Cindy Frankow provided a fitting climax to the play. Stage designers were Jane White and Gail Murphy; Wardrobe and Make-up, Mrs. V. Allingham; lighting and curtains, Tom Gorham and Terry Gilbert. Producer and director was Mr. B. Davis. The play was presented as a culmination of the junior high school Drama Course.

GUEST SPEAKER

On Friday, March 10, School No. 2 held open house. There were 286 individual classroom visits on this occasion and the staff would like to thank the parents for their interest. Guest speaker was Mr. Munro MacLeod an ex-teacher, ex-principal, ex-superintendent, and ex-university consultant in education. He is also a past president of the Alberta Federation of Home and School association. Mr. MacLeod spoke on Parents, Teachers, and Pupils to a most appreciative audience. He diagnosed the ills prevalent in our society and explained their detrimental effects on our schools. As a remedy for these ills, Mr. MacLeod stressed the giving of love and security, training to accept discipline, with an adequate explanation given for the need for such discipline. The solution of these problems depends on the understanding by parents, children, and teachers alike, on the solutions based on these understandings.

CENTENNIAL MEDALLIONS

Every child in both schools has now received his commemorative medal for Canada's one hundredth birthday.

DOGS ATTACK CHILDREN

A third child from school No. 2 has been bitten by a dog since the opening of school in September.

I ADMIRE HIM

I saw him first on a warm summer night.
He seemed to stumble as if in fright.
Then some strange pity stirred inside me,
I then heard a voice say, "Go and see"!

He was young and dark with eyes like night,
And studied a flower with touch so light,
I sensed his wonder in nature then -
I heard my voice say, "Be my friend"!
I walked to him so slowly that night.

He heard my footsteps and turned in fright:
Later, he began to talk to me,
You ask me why?

He was blind, you see.
- Vicki Campbell

Winter struck out suddenly
With hard cruel jaws of biting cold.
Her windy talons scraped trees bare,
And made the world look sad and old.

Mother Nature kind at heart,
Came marching to her children's aid
With soothing snow to cover up
The ugly wounds the cold had made.

The soft white blanket encompassed all
With warm and sympathetic smile:
Underneath life stirred anew,
Soon again to spring forth with style.
- Lynne Dales

FEATHER, CHAIN, SNOW

A feather, a chain, a flake of snow,
What everyday items they be,
The feather and snow are somewhat akin,
The chain is the odd of the three.

The feather and flake, both soft and light,
The link is hard and cold,
And of each object as simple as such,

A mythical tale can be told..
'Twas imprisoned Icarus who sailed through the air
With the aid of stolen wings;
'Twas his father who toiled by candlelight
To fashion the fanciful things.
Free from their chains, both father and son,

his own doom!
- Jenny Payne

On waxen wing did soar,
High into the heavens they flew birds,
But over the ocean's roar.

Icarus out of stupidity
Fell to the sea below,
And there he lies in his icy grave,
And makes ice, but snow.
- Owen Stutt

Unfortunately at the time of writing the Bonspiel scheduled for 20-24 Mar had not been completed. We'll report on this event in next month's column.

The length of our list of postings, transfers and retirements this month is rather impressive. Postings include Sgt. Bob Adams to Regina, and Sgt. "Lucky" Bill Henderson complete with TROPICAL KIT (swimsuit, sunglasses, sun tan oil and camera) to Sunny Cyprus; Pte Fred Bowie to 26 COD Cobourg on terminal posting, and Pte Andy Bekker to CBOU Germany.

On release are Pte Terry Manser, going to work at U of A and Cpl Bill Raines retiring to Winnipeg area after 15 years of service. Civilian transfers saw Bill McLaughlin go to Base Maintenance (RCME). Irene St. Julien to Base Medical and Ellen Ross to Base Central Registry. Charmain McArthur has joined the Dept. of Trade and Commerce in the Federal Building. Charlie Lay retired after 13 years at the ROD. We wish him continued good fortune with his greenhouse nursery.

With the reduction of staff we are seriously considering adopting the motto "If you like to work — you'll love it here."

League play in the various Griesbach Leagues has come to a close and all the Leagues are at this time engaged in their annual Bonspiels. The Annual Griesbach Invitational Spiel is being held this year from March 30 - April 2, '67. Entries have been limited to 64 rinks.

GRIESBACH LADIES CURLING CLUB

The season has finally ended for the Griesbach Ladies. The Ladies 6th Annual Emerald Bonspiel was held at The Griesbach

Curling Club from the 17-19 of March. This Annual Spiel gets better and better each year and judging by the interest from "Topside," this would appear to be the number one Spiel held in Griesbach. Teams were entered from Ardrossan, Broadmoor, El-lersley, Jasper Place, Lancaster Park, Penhold, Spruce Grove, St. Albert, Viking, 700 Wing Kings-way and rinks from Griesbach. Everyone seemed in high spirits the evening of March 18th. The banquet was over and the first draw of the evening was just getting under way. The girls made a colourful group in the different sweaters, and one rink came complete with Irish hats, clay pipes and baby brooms and dust-pans — they at least were going to keep the ice clean. The girls from far off Penhold were a sight to behold — in blue from head to foot — very pretty! As the evening wore on the real bonspiel spirit came out, and the girls sang and danced and generally had a ball.

The "A" Event and Grand Challenge Trophy donated by Universal Household Movers Ltd. went to the Kay Neid rink from Broadmoor with the Jan Dales rink from Griesbach as runner-up. Jan made a great effort but never seemed able to shake the effects of the four-ender Kay threw at her. Jan's rink was as follows: Vivian Hillier (Third), Audrey Gibson (Second), Joe MacLachlan (Lead). Thee 'B' Trophy donated by Northern Utilities was won by the Arlene Crozier rink of Lancaster Park. Runner-up was the Isobel White rink of Jasper Place. The 'C' Event was won by th Hilda McLaren Rink of Griesbach. This was a great come-from-behind win for Hilda and her girls. Down by a score of 12-6 at the end of seven ends, they scored one in the eighth, three in the ninth, and coming home were two down. They stole three in the 10th end to win by one, and capture the event. Intestinal fortitude—nuts—plain guts. Runner-up in this event was Florence Singer of Spruce Grove. In the 'D' event, Lorna Hay of Lancaster Park took first prize, and runner Kay Dondeneau rink from Spruce Grove.

Many thanks to the Executive and prize committee for their hard work. Also we mustn't forget Mr. Lucas and his assistant Lillian Sims who produced a most delicious supper for the hungry bonspielers. So we conclude a most successful bonspiel and hope to see many of the girls back again next year. Oh yes, thanks to Mrs. Betty Mercer for all the help and assistance she gave in producing the monthly curling news.

CURLING — HERE AND THERE

The Edmonton Civil Service Commission Bonspiel was held in Edmonton during the past month and a team skipped by Joe Thompson (remember Joe) sure you do, everybody remembers Joe, won the "Grand Challenge" Trophy in the 'A' Event. Other members of the team were Earle Smith (Third) Joyce Smith (Second), no relation to Earle, and Wendy Barnes (First). This rink now enters the Inter-Provincial Playdowns commencing in Edmonton on Saturday the 25th of March at the Ottewell Curling Club. Four rinks from Calgary, Edmonton, Regina and Saskatoon.

GRIESBACH BOWLING

The Griesbach Team finished seventh in the zone 2 Championship held at RCAF Namao on the 23-24 of Feb. The RCAF Station Namao "A" Team came out on top by 116 pins over their nearest rivals from RCAF Station Cold Lake. Our Griesbach Team in ending up seventh out of the 12 Teams entered averaged 1073 pins per game. Early in the first 3-game block, Sgt. Dennis William's made a real try at high triple when he scored a 780 and was holding high average at this point in the tournament. Sgt. Ken Hunt made a charge at the high single only to be jarred by a 'Split' in the ninth frame. WO1 George Seguin had two rough days and could not beat the corner pins. He probably set a record for leaving the corners. This was a well organized tournament and a good time was had by all. Matt Westly has no excuses for his team. He says "We done our best," it just wasn't good enough against this competition.

The six who participated as part of the Griesbach entry are as follows: Sgt. Dennis Williams, Pte. Matt Westly, Cpl. Ernie Smith, Sgt. Chuck Addison, Sgt. Ken Hunt and WO1 George Seguin. Cpl. Doug Masse was carried as spare.

Griesbach Bantams Win Silver Medal

Lloyd Edwards Series Standout

Griesbach Bantams surround Goalie Edwards following sudden death play off victory

GRIESBACH BANTAMS WIN SILVER MEDAL

by Special Correspondent

The Griesbach Bantam "Bs" won the Silver Medal, emblematic of second place in the North East Zone Hockey Championships on Monday, 27 March.

This event climaxed a long uphill battle, starting with their march towards the play-offs by finishing fourth in League season's play.

To make the play-offs, the Griesbach team, coached by Sgt Gus Thuillier, was faced with a sudden-death play-off for fourth spot. That game ended on a dramatic note — 19.55 of the third period with Griesbach leading 2 to 1, the opposing team was awarded a penalty shot. The Griesbach goal-keeper, Lloyd Edwards, made a spectacular save and the game was over. This win started the long march to the finals. Griesbach eliminated their opponents in the semi-finals for the Division Championships in two straight games.

The next step was to take on the mighty Glengarry team in the Division finals. In the first game of the two-game, total points series, Glengarry displayed their scoring punch by edging Griesbach with a 5 to 4 victory. Going into the second game, one goal down and with their backs to the wall, the Griesbach team led by Roger Leveque, Dale Stewart and Jim Dureen, scored a 6-0 victory to take the series 10 to 5. Lloyd Edwards, the goal-keeper, with only half a season of goal-keeping behind him, was spectacular and deserved the shut-out. This young man, with the proper coaching has a great future as a goal-keeper. Helping Edwards up on the blue line were defencemen Kenny Milbrath, Dale Stewart, Barry Einarson and Rick Emery.

The win in this series advanced Griesbach into the finals against the unbeaten Montrose team. On Sunday, 25 March, the Griesbach team went down to defeat 4 - 0. The Montrose team were full value for their win. They showed a lot of polish around the net, their passing plays were accurate, and they skated for a full 60 minutes. In the second game, with a four-goal lead to overcome, Griesbach took the first step with a quick opening goal by Rick Emery. Montrose fought back and tied it up at one a piece. Towards the end of the first period, Jeff Collett wrapped in Griesbach's second goal. Montrose came back quickly on a power play and tied it up again. In the second period, it was Jeff Collett again for Griesbach's third goal with assists by Jim Dureen and Tom Gorham. Once again, Montrose tied it up and in the third period Montrose went ahead 4 - 3. A few minutes later, on a beautiful effort, Jim Dureen tied it up four goals apiece to close out the scoring. Griesbach fought the power-tie but lost the series on the round 8 to 4.

Following the game, the Montrose team was presented with the full Montrose team to a four all trophy, emblematic of the Zone Championship. The Griesbach team was introduced on centre ice and drew a great round of applause for their outstanding play and were complimented by the President of the League on the clean brand of hockey they displayed.

Sgt Thuillier is to be congratulated for the manner in which he coached this team and for winning the Silver Medal, emblematic of runner-up in the Zone Championships.

Goal-keeper, Lloyd Edwards, was a stand-out in the medal play, as was Mark Tuttle, Richard Johnston and Wayne Kube. Don and Guy Levy provided added strength in the stretch drive. The series star must be Lloyd Edwards. Dale Stewart and Mark Tuttle would also be stars on any hockey team.

Each member of the team will be presented with a Silver Medal at a Hockey Banquet to be held in the Sportex Building on 7th of April. In a word, well done Gus — and congratulations boys.

After School What? ? ?

Servicemen and their families are frequently less informed about military careers than their civilian counterparts. We urge young people to stay in school to the limit of their ability, but during the next three months many will be faced with having to make a decision that will have an effect on the rest of their lives - what to do after leaving school - university or a job! To assist you, the parent, may we remind you that:

—If your son has a junior matriculation or better he may be eligible for

.. sponsorship under the Regular Officer Training Plan (ROTP) leading to a university education and a commission in the service of his choice;

.. commissioning under the Officer Candidate Training Plan (OCTP) as a surface or aircrew officer in the Navy, or in certain corps in the army, or as an aircrew officer in the Air Force.

.. If your son has a high school diploma or less he may qualify for enrollment into the non-commissioned ranks as a tradesman or specialist.

.. If you have a daughter with a grade 10 education or better she may qualify for enrollment into the women's services as a Wren or Airwoman.

At the time of writing here were 33ROTP applications held by this office but only 4 were from service families - give this some thought and then decide whether you are really so well off that you can afford to let such largesse go by.
